B A T H, October 30.

THIS Day being His Majeſty's Birth Day, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of this City, waited upon their Royal Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſſes of Wales with the following ADDRESS.

May it pleaſe your Royal Highneſſes,

THE Corporation of the loyal City of Bath, truly ſenſible how auſpicious the Birth of his Majeſty was to this Nation, preſume to wait on your Royal Highneſſes, to bid you Joy on that Occaſion. A Birth to which we owe the Continuance of thoſe invaluable Bleſſings, which our ſucceſsful Struggles for Liberty procur'd us in that glorious Act of Succeſſion: A Birth, to which we are indebted, Sir, for Your Royal Perſon, in whoſe preſence we enjoy all poſſible Happineſs. More we could ſay, but words have not Power to expreſs the Joy we feel; but we hope the Actions and Behaviour of every Member of this Corporation and City, will convince His Majeſty and Your Royal Highneſs, that we commemorate this Day with exceeding great Joy.

His Royal Highneſs's ANSWER.

GENTLEMEN,

NOthing can add more to my Satisfaction in the Regard you have ſhewn to me and the Princeſs, than your Expreſſions of Duty and Affection to the King upon this Occaſion, for which I return you my Thanks.

LONDON, Nov. 10. The Prince and Princeſs of Wales having accepted an Invitation, paid their Viſit to the City of Briſtol, and were received with all the Joy and Solemnity imaginable. As ſoon as they had enter'd Temple Gate, withinſide of which Scaffolding was erected for the Mayor and Corporation, they were congratulated by the Recorder in a very eloquent Manner; then the Gentlemen of the Corporation went into their Coaches, and the Cavalcade began. The Companies of the City 21 in Number, made a magnificent appearance in their Formalities, marching two by two. Firſt the Glaſſmen dreſſed in white Holland Shirts on Horſeback, ſome with Swords, others with Crowns and Scepters in their Hands made of Glaſs; then followed the Woolcombers dreſs'd alſo in white & woollen Caps of different Colours, with Wands in their Hands; next came the Weavers on Foot, likewiſe in white, in the midſt of whom was a Loom erected on a Pageant, with a Boy in it, weaving a Piece of Shag; the Sadlers Company made a fine Appearance on Horſeback, with rich Cockades in their Hats, and complimented the Prince, who was pleaſed to return them his Thanks. One Hundred and Twenty One Pieces of Cannon planted along the Key were regularly diſcharged during the Proceſſion, which paſſed round the Key, that the Royal Viſitors might have a Sight of the Shipping and Harbour: At laſt the Companies having ranged themſelves in two Columns in the Square under the Cover of the Horſe, their Highneſſes had a compleat view of the Cavalcade as they paſſed to their Lodgings; where Dr. Harcourt in the Name of the Clergy, and Mr. John Coyſgarne, Maſter of the Hall, in the Name of the Merchants, congratulated them on their Arrival, being introduced at his Royal Highneſs's requeſt, by the Right Worſhipful William Jefferys, Eſq; Mayor, and had the Honour of kiſſing their Hands.

Their Royal Highneſſes were afterwards entertained at Merchants-Hall in a grand Manner in two ſeparate Appartments, where upwards of 500 Ladies and Gentlemen were preſent, and 5 l. was offered for a Ticket. The Prince in his Appartment was waited on by 5 young Gentlemen Aldermen's Sons, as was likewiſe the Princeſs in hers, and the Lady of Nathaniel Gay, Eſq; the late Mayor, was at the Head of the General Aſſembly of the Ladies, the Supper was ſerved up in two Courſes, conſiſting fifting upwards of a Hundred Diſhes each, beſides an elegant Deſſert raiſed on a Frame in beautiful Figures. The Princeſs talked freely with the Ladies in good Engliſh, which entirely won their Hearts. After Supper there was a Ball, and a magnificent Firework was play'd off on a Scaffold erected round King William's Statue. Next Morning the Prince viſited the Hot-Well, and at Noon their Highneſſes ſet out on their return to Bath, attended by the Corporation in their Formalities to the City Gates.---The Prince preſented to Mrs. Mayoreſs a Bloodſtone repeating Watch, having ſeveral brilliant Diamonds, and finely enameled; and to the only Son of Henry Combe, Eſq; where their Highneſſes lodged, a Gold Box ornamented round with 23 brilliant Diamonds; to Diſcharge poor Debtors 200 l. to Officers, Servants, Ringers, &c. a conſiderable Sum.

BRISTOL, Nov. 10. The ADDRESS of the Mayor, &c. of the City of Briſtol to the Prince of Wales.

May it pleaſe your Royal Highneſs,

THE Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council and Citizens of Briſtol, beg leave moſt humby to acknowledge the great Condeſcention of your Royal Highneſs, and her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs, in vouchſafing to honour this City with your Preſence, and permitting us to pay our humble Duty to your Royal Highneſſes, on Occaſion of ſo much Joy. An Honour we ſhould be utterly unworthy of, did we not receive it with Hearts full of the warmeſt Impreſſions of Duty and Gratitude, and ambitious of recommending ourſelves to the Approbation of your Royal Highneſſes, by a moſt dutiful and affectionate Zeal for the Honour of his Majeſty's Government, and the Stability of his Royal Houſe.------Permit us therefore, Sir, moſt humbly to aſſure your Royal Highneſs, that as we enjoy the bleſſings of a Free Government aud extenſive Trade, thro' His Majeſty's Wiſdom, Equity and Royal Goodneſs, ſo, while we contemplate the ſame Principles of true Greatneſs, adorning the Character of your Royal Highneſs, we rejoice in the Proſpect that lies before us.-----All that we have further to hope, or wiſh for, is, that when his Majeſty and your Royal Highneſs, ſhall be removed from the View and Admiration of Mankind, and Poſterity ſhall mention your Royal Names together with Veneration, Love and Gratitude: May a Line of Princes deſcended from your Royal Highneſs, and her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs, be to lateſt Ages, the Glory and Ornament of their Times, Guardians of the Britiſh Conſtitution, and Advocates for the Rights of Mankind.-----Theſe, Sir, are the Sentiments and unfeigned Wiſhes of his Majeſty's Loyal Subjects the Citizens of Briſtol, who beg your Royal Highneſs's Permiſſion, to preſume yet farther on your Goodneſs, and moſt humbly intreat your Gracious Acceptance of the Freedom of this City, which Mr. Mayor has the Honour to preſent to your Royal Highneſs in the Names of all the Freemen of Briſtol.

To which his Royal Highneſs was pleaſed to return the following ANSWER.

GENTLEMEN,

I RETURN you my Thanks and the Princeſs's, for this Inſtance of your Regard, which is the more pleaſing to me, becauſe it is at the ſame Time a Proof of your Duty and Affection to the King. This great City may always depend upon my particular Wiſhes for its Proſperity and the Advancement of its Trade; which is ſo valuable an Effect of Liberty, and ſo ſtrong a Support of the Honour and Happineſs of this Nation. I ſhall inculcate theſe Sentiments into my Children, who, I hope, will one Day deſerve the Concern you expreſs for them now.

The ADDRESS of the Merchants-Adventurers to his Royal Highneſs.

May it pleaſe your Royal Highneſs,

TO permit us the Maſters, Wardens, and Aſſiſtants of the Society of Merchant-Adventurers, to approach your Preſence with joyful and thankful Hearts, for the great Condeſcention of Yourſelf and her Royal Highneſs your Conſort, in honouring us and our Fellow Citizens, with this auſpicious Viſit.-----From the well-known Zeal of his Majeſty, and your Royal Highneſs, for the Proſperity of Trade, we are encouraged moſt humbly to beſeech your gracious Acceptance of the Freedom of our Society, which we have the Honour to preſent, by the unanimous Vote of our Body.

His Royal Highneſs's ANSWER.

GENTLEMEN,

I AM extreamly pleaſed with this Mark of Regard, from a Society that contributes ſo much to the Riches and Strength of this Kingdom.

NEWPORT, Feb. 9. Mrs Mary Haſzard, Widow of Mr. Robert Haſzard, of South Kingſton, and Grand-Mother to the deceaſed George Haſzard, Eſq; late Deputy Governor of Rhode-Iſland; departed this Life the 28th of January laſt, in the Hundredth Year of her Age, who was decently interr'd the Wedneſday following. She had 500 Children, Grand Children and Great Grand Children, and left behind her now living 205 of the aforeſaid Number: She was born at Rhode-Iſland and has a Siſter ſtill living here. Her Grandaughter has been a Grandmother theſe 15 Years. She was accounted a very uſeful Gentlewoman both to Poor and Rich on many Accounts, and particularly amongſt ſick Perſons, for her Skill and Judgment, which ſhe beſtow'd Gratis.

IPSWICH, Feb. 10. Laſt Week was calved here an extraordinary Calf, formed, as it were, inſide out, the Skin being as if flay'd from the Brisket downwards to the Rump, and to about two thirds of the Sides, then turned back, where it grew together from the Neck to the Rump, without any Perforation, and form'd one entire Covering; which when opened on the Back, the four Feet and Tail turned out, and the inſide of the Skin and the Legs were covered with Hair, as common. On the outſide of the Brisket hung the Heart, and all the Viſcera in their natural Form and Poſition, without any Covering; the Head and Neck only had their natural Shape and Covering. The Creature was known to have Life but a very little Time before calving, and was grown to a common Size.
